OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

TUESDAY MORNING DECEMBER 5, 1865

"Intermeddling" with the South

"All we want is to be let alone" is the declaration which still comes up from a considerable portion of the South Cease your intermeddling with Southern institutions and Southern rights is screamed in loyal ears by rebel allies in the North Withdraw the federal armies, say those who were but lately in insurrection and permit us to govern ourselves Now it is worth while to inquire what it is that makes the presence of Union soldiers—orderly well disciplined and peaceable men—so extremely odious to the professed patriots of the South Undoubtedly they now want the troops removed for the same reason that caused them a while ago to desire to be "let alone" Loyal men do not regard our country as soldiers with aversion and hatred It is, perhaps, but natural that disloyal should want them removed altogether from their sight

But granting that our loyal people and the Government besides do offensively interpose in the matter of deciding the rights and regulating the conduct of the Southern people where is there reasonable cause for complaint? Since the time of their rebellion, the Southern States as political communities, have had no rights they could justly call their own That they shall now submit in all respects to loyal dictation is not less imperatively necessary than absolutely right They are to conform their own ideas and purposes to the requirements of a national policy Nor can it be said that there is any injustice in thus compelling them to do what the Government may see fit to require of them

The President goes upon the principle that the Government has a right to dictate the course which the insurrectionary States shall pursue On several occasions he has tendered his advice that he might lead them in the right direction, at other times he has interposed his authority to check proceedings which prudence would not allow. To prevent several of the States from assuming the payment of the debt which was incurred in aid of the rebellion, required hardly less than a threat of summary punishment at the hands of the Executive. North Carolina was advised by the President to choose loyal Congressmen; she did not heed the injunction, and now she is informed that that ill advised election will cost her a further period of penitential waiting The President justly claims the right to interfere with the acts of disloyal people in so far, at least, as to prevent them from defeating the purposes of the Government and from placing their State authorities in an irreconcilable antagonism with those of the nation.

The interference which many complain of, is nothing more than the exercise of a perfect right to demand guarantees and conditions for future loyalty Further than this, the Government feels bound, both by motives of duty and good policy to protect the Union men and emancipated blacks of the seceded States. The precautions it takes are necessary to secure us against another rebellion. The loyal sentiment of the South, however weak it may be and because it is weak—must be fostered and sustained The great Union party, North and South, must act unitedly and in harmony, or our future will be insecure The North has given more than three hundred thousand lives, and has expended three thousand millions of money to preserve the Union and to secure the blessings of liberty to all Having made such sacrifices for the Union, the Northern States are entitled to the conditions on which it shall be restored And in dictating just and liberal terms, they are not open to the charge of intermeddling in the affairs of others, but are simply attending to matters which belong to them to arrange and settle, and which to them are things of the greatest moment and of the utmost concern

When any Union man complains to Pittock about publishing so much Copperhead, he lays the blame on Mr Ireland, the Democratic local but still keeps Ireland gripding away.—Oregon Sentinel

The Statesman has no provocation whatever for thus maliciously assailing Mr Ireland The insinuation which is made in this connection against Mr. Pittock is equally unmanly and unworthy Mr. Ireland never writes never has written a political article for this paper. Last May when J W. Nesmith arrived in this town, he made mention of the fact, and gave him a notice couched in terms more commendatory than he would have used, had he been acquainted with the Senator's political character This is the full extent of Mr Ireland's "Copperheadism" In assuming to be a Union man, par excellence, and in calling other names, the Statesman editor seems to forget that before the war and even after its commencement, he was a mendicant "Democrat," and like many others of his party, fit for a "Democratic Republic" or any other scheme that would have been broached.

THE POST-OFFICE IN WASCO AND GRANT COUNTIES. Hon. H. A Hogue of the Dalles, called on us last evening. Mr. H. is on his way to Salem It is well understood he is elected to the Legislature by a handsome majority over Colonel Gates On official returns received at the Dalles on Saturday morning, make it certain that his majority in Great county is eighty-two. As Gates' majority in Wasco was forty three, Hogue is elected in the district by a majority of thirty nine The vote of Great county was not sent to the Dalles to be canvassed with that of Wasco, but the returns are stated to have been transmitted directly to the office of the Secretary of State. It is hardly to be doubted that when Mr Hogue arrives at Salem, he will obtain a certificate of election and a seat in the Legislature

WONDERFUL FORECAST.—A great many of the Democratic papers are discussing the question of negro suffrage. Among these is the New York World. We find in that journal a remarkable argument, which runs as follows The negro naturally inclines to polygamy Give him the ballot and the worst results may follow, for if Mormon missionaries should go South, and if they should convert the negro to their faith, and if he should then vote for Mormonism and polygamy and if a Mormon President should thus be elected another terrible civil war would be required to straighten things The prescience of the World is without a parallel After this long drawn and cogent argument, we may conclude the question of negro suffrage will never be revived again

GALE ON THE SOUND.—We learn by telegraph that there has been a severe gale on Puget Sound continuing with greater or less violence during a period of three weeks Much damage has been done, and business has been quite suspended The brig Hugh Barclay was dismasted in the Straits of Fuca and the bark Ella Francis disabled Several smaller vessels are missing The roads in many places are obstructed by fallen timber

The Albany Journal says that the "Teacher's Institute of Linn county will hold its next session at Brownsville on the 26th of December Various matters pertaining to and illustrating the best methods of imparting instruction will be discussed by practical teachers who will be in attendance

The Umatilla Advertiser speaks of a project which is entertained by the citizens of that place to improve the road over the heavy sand a distance of twelve miles out from the town This is a work which is greatly needed and which, if performed, will greatly benefit Umatilla

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO NOVEMBER 27.

Volunteer Officers to be Mustered Out

NEW YORK, Nov 27 —The Tribune's special says an order is forthcoming to muster out all officers of volunteers not in command or assigned to a regiment also ordering a number of officers of the regular army to return to their former rank and report by letter to the Adjutant General

Parties who left Mexico on the 8th say that permission to the Imperial party looked upon war with the United States as quite probable The Confederation neutrality by the soldiers on Rio Grande is considered a horse-under of no value Large sales and General Weitzel's letter to Steele are interesting Early show the intention of the federal authorities with regard to a war with Mexico Several cabinet meetings had been held in which questions of war with the United States was discussed and decided that it was not to be sought Active auxiliary measures for the defence of the country against aggression This is the advice of the cabinet however, was approved too by Bazaine, who for the last six months, had looked on a war as imminent and had prepared himself for such an emergency By his order several points had been fortified

Our Government has received intelligence confirmatory of the reports from the Rio Grande

South America and the West Indies

WASHINGTON, Nov 29 The communication between the United States and Columbia was inaugurated today by the appearance of C L Biddle for the United States and Columbia, with Sir Frederick Bruce British Minister, as umpire

NEW YORK, Nov 28 —A recruiting office for the Hayti army has been established in Broadway The pay offered is eighty dollars per month

Rebels Released—Ford's Theatre Turned Over to the Government

NEW YORK, Nov 28 —A special to the Herald says the President has just issued an order releasing from Fort Pulaski Judson rebel Secretary of War and Judge Magrath of South Carolina

The contractor of Ford's Theatre has finished rebuilding the building and turned it over to the Government It is now ready for rebel relics

Gen Grant's Tour—The President on Mexican Affairs

NEW YORK, Nov 28 —The Times says An impression prevails that Grant will visit New Orleans for the purpose of meeting Sheridan and consulting relative to affairs on the Rio Grande It is believed there will not be any offensive demonstration by Sheridan's troops now on that line

A special to the Tribune says No part of the President's Message has created so much attention as that relating to Mexico His position is understood that while he can't be indifferent to the transpiring events in Mexico, yet interference on our part is unnecessary

The World's special says The report that the Government detained vessels to assist in laying the telegraph cable at Behring's Straits is untrue

The Times' special says The report that John Mitchell was pardoned is untrue He didn't apply for pardon but took the oath of allegiance

But two or three Representatives of States recently in rebellion have arrived It is understood none will ask nor intend to interfere with the organization of the House They await the action of the Clerk and the dominating party

Report of the War Department.

NEW YORK, Dec 1 —A special to the Times says the report of the Secretary of War is now ready for delivery It will satisfy the country that some vigor characterized the Department in bringing the army to a peace footing which marked its action in the prosecution of the war On the first of May last, we had in field and hospitals, 1 000 000 men This army has been reduced to 175,000 men The process of reduction is still going on By the first of May next the army will consist of 50 000 men, which the Secretary deems will be sufficient for a State at peace He will ask for $33,000,000 only for the Department

NEW YORK, Dec 1 —The Post's Washington special states the printing of the war report will be finished to morrow at noon

The report of the Comptroller of Currency will also be ready to-morrow. It presents strong arguments in favor of contraction of currency

NEW YORK, Nov 28 —The Charleston correspondent of the Herald says: Sickles has succeeded Charleston, commanding the Department of South Carolina The citizens seem to think the change indicates displeasure of the President in his short comings in the work of reconstruction, and a purpose on the part of the Government to re-establish martial law

Only meagre returns for Congressmen have been received

Habeas Corpus Restored.

WASHINGTON, Nov 30 —The President has issued a proclamation, dated Dec 1st, restoring the writ of habeas corpus in all States and Territories except Virginia Kentucky Tennessee, North Carolina, Georgia Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, District of Columbia, Territories of New Mexico and Arizona

Later from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov 27 —A few additional members arrived to day No delay in the organization of the House is anticipated Instead of an extraordinary turbulent time as predicted, present indications are in the opposite direction The prospects are that the House will organize on Monday Colfax for speaker and Malthorson for clerk, seem to have the entire field to themselves as far as can be ascertained It is not believed that any of the members elect from any of the Southern States, except perhaps, those of Tennessee and Arkansas will be permitted to take part in the organization of the House

NEW YORK Nov 29 —A Washington special says H V Johnson added the weight of his opinion, that no Southern members will be admitted to Congress

Letters from gentlemen in Florida, say there is no doubt that Marvin is elected U S Senator from Florida

NEW YORK, Nov 30 —The Herald's Fortress Monroe dispatch says that all Virginia Congressmen are preparing to leave for Washington The oath question will be tested by Mr Stuart, who will make application to take his seat without taking the test oath

NEW YORK, Nov 30th —A special dispatch to the Herald says it is understood that efforts will be made by the New York Delegation at organization of Congress to depose McPherson from the Clerkship of the House Several candidates have already been named

A special to the Times says there will be seven contested seats in Congress, which are as follows The 8th District, New York, 16th and 21st Pa 13th Ohio, 7th Indiana, 4th Missouri and 5th Michigan. The credentials of members are very slow in arriving It is doubtful if the Clerk will be able to make up the roll in time from the credentials received

NEW YORK, Nov 30th —The Chronicle says McPherson Clerk of the House, has decided to leave off the names of Virginia and Tennessee members from the official roll

The friends of the President, however, insist that Maynard and Colstaken, members elect from Tennessee, must be admitted at the organization of the House They will probably be admitted

Emerson Etheridge claims that but few Congressmen elected from that State have received a majority of legal votes

A special dispatch to the New York Times of Dec 1st says that up to 4 o clock last evening only thirty five members of Congress had reported themselves

A special dispatch to the Herald says that the New York delegation is in Washington to press Henry J Raymond for the chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee, in place of Thaddeus Stevens

No opposition has as yet been manifested to ward Colfax for the Speakership, but a little to warm McPherson

The arrivals of Politicians are quite numerous to day

WASHINGTON, Dec 1 —So far about seventy five members of the House of Representatives have arrived The caucus of Republicans is called for to morrow night to select candidates for the Speakership and other offices

PORTLAND Me Nov 28—The Asia from Liverpool the 16th, brings five days later news The British Government sent by the West Indies mail steamer sufficient time to allow the Board of Commerce to consider the steps requisite to be taken for the protection of British interests in Chili

The London journals publish further correspondence between Adams and Russell in reference to the Alabama claims The Times earnestly hopes the Sea and Ala officers and men were not tolerated without communicants with Adams

The Emperor Napoleon and the Prince Imperial had gone to Champagne The Emperor has ordered a reduction of the army by 1 500 officers and 21 000 men saving thereby millions of francs A thousand French soldiers had arrived from Italy

The Emperor of Austria will shortly be crowned King of Hungary

New York Nov 28 —The following news was brought by the steamer Hibernian The London Star says the Adams Russell correspondence is chiefly remarkable for the withdrawal by Adams of the offer of arbitration Russell gives at great length the facts to prove that the British Government did all that could be expected of it

IDAHO FAST FREIGHT LINE —The Fast Freight Line of R M Dukell & Co which has been running for some months between Umatilla and various points in Idaho Territory has been of immense advantage to the Columbia river in the way of enabling this route to the mines of Boise and Owyhee to triumph over that from northern California This line will run during the winter At present it employs twenty one teams, some of six others of four horses From Umatilla to Boise City, their time is six days, to Idaho City seven They go through also in seven days from Umatilla to Owyhee The average distance traveled per day is fifty miles Stations are fixed at distances varying from fifteen to eighteen miles from each other and at each station there is a relay of horses so that there may be no delay on account of jaded teams

It is the intention of the company to run sleighs during the winter over so much of the road as may be covered with snow Next spring they will establish a daily line from Umatilla to Olde' ferry This will connect with the boat now being built by the Oregon Steam Navigation Company for the upper Snake river trade When this joint enterprise is put into operation the time between Portland and Boise City or Owyhee will be reduced to less than four days A passenger and fast freight line will run directly from Umatilla through to Olde' ferry in forty eight hours From the upper landing on Snake river DuBrull & Co will run coaches and wagons both ways—to the one hand to Owyhee and on the other to Boise City This arrangement will afford the public better facilities for both freight and travel to the mining districts of Idaho than can possibly be supplied by any other route In comfort, convenience and speed, it will be second only to the advantages that a railroad would bestow Next spring will mark a new era in the modes of communication with Idaho The trip will easily be made from San Francisco to Boise or Owyhee in eight days time This is not a scheme which is capable merely of being delineated on paper but it is an enterprise which is certain to be put into practical and successful operation Complete arrangements are made to carry the plan into execution and the work necessary to be done to complete its several parts is already going on Oregon is not a whit behind California in making an energetic effort to establish a steady certain and profitable trade with the mining districts which lie just beyond our borders Aided by the Columbia and Snake rivers, we have great odds in our favor, and by pressing our advantages, we must surely succeed

The Idaho World says since the 5th of November, 1864, to November 5th 1865 no less than one hundred and twenty persons were received in the Hospital—many of them in a horribly mutilated condition—occasioned almost entirely by the caving of banks falling of trees, and other incidents and vicissitudes of mining life

Sooner or Later

So sure as later the storm shall beat
Over my slumber from head to feet;
Sooner or later the winds shall wave
In the long grass above my grave.

I shall not heed their wild wail then;
Nothing these sound shall signify.
Nothing the head-stone's chief lesson,
Nothing to me the dark last sun.

Sooner or later the sun shall shine
With tender warmth on that mound of clay;
Sooner or later in sunny air
I love and violet blossom there.

I shall not feel in that hapless rest,
The shouted light fall over my breast
Nor ever note in those hidden hours
The wind blown breath of its tossing flowers

Sooner or later the stainless snows
Shall add their hush to my mute repose,
Soon or later shall slant and shift,
And hang my bed with their dazzling drift

Chill through that frozen pall shall seep,
Its touch no colder can make the dream
That rocks not the sweet and sacred dread
Shrouding the city of the dead

Sooner or later the bee shall come
And fill the noon with its golden hum;
Sooner or later on half-pinned vine,
The blue bird's warble shout me ring

Ring and chirrup and whistle with glee,
Nothing his music means to me
Some of them beautiful things shall last
How sorrowfully their lives slip past

Sooner or later far off in the night,
The stars shall over me wing their flight,
Sooner or later my darkling Jews
Catch the white rack in their silent ooze

Never a ray shall part that gloom
That wraps me round in the kindly tomb,
Peace all so perfect for lip and brow
Sooner or later,—Oh, why not now!

DEMOCRATIC UNCTION.—Only one year ago last August, the Democracy of Butler county, Ohio, held a meeting and adopted the following, which is good reading for soldiers and War Democrats at this time:

WHEREAS, We have this day met to protest against the further unconstitutional slaughter of the people of Ohio, by the President of the United States, his counselors, aiders and abettors, as well as to decide in what manner we intend to protect our lives against ruthless conscription, and our property from taxation;

Resolved, That the State Judiciary, having entirely failed to declare the Conscription law unconstitutional, or even to issue a habeas corpus to try the question, and there being no hope in that quarter, nor in our Governor, nor Legislature, the evils of the draft are so monstrous that the people are compelled to interfere, and declare that they will not submit to it; and we call on every county to move in concert as an effectual Peace party, to put an end to the wholesale destruction of our institutions and our families

Resolved, That the Federal Government cannot rightfully interfere with, or modify or abolish the system of labor of any State, either in or out of the Union, under any pretense, or in pursuance of any authority whatsoever.

Resolved, That in the application of these ideas, which, in our judgment, are constitutionally reasonable, evident and just to the conflict between the Union and Confederate States, we but perform a natural and social duty in declaring "to all whom it may concern," that no citizen of Ohio, resident of Butler county, shall be compelled to join the Federal army to consummate the avowed designs of the enemies of State rights, even should it prove necessary to give effect to this decision BY FORCE AND WITH ARMS.

Resolved, That the citizens of this county who are opposed to a further prosecution of the war should prepare for such a contingency

Hill Beachey, Esq., has forwarded two bids to the P. O. Department to carry the U. S. mails from Hamboldt City, Nevada, to Boise City, Idaho Territory. One to cover the time till June 30, 1866, and one for the subsequent four years. His bonds are amply sufficient, and accompanied the proposals. He expects a reply from the P. O. Department by telegraph, and, if his proposals are accepted, he will immediately enter upon the service. His bids are as low as the service can be performed for, and we urge it upon those who represent Nevada and Idaho interests in Congress to use their utmost exertions to have Mr. Beach ey's proposals accepted. There is not a more energetic man in the country than him, and if any man can, the mails will be carried promptly by him. This line will bring us within six and seven days of San Francisco, and from two to three from the telegraph at Star City, instead of fifteen to twenty from the former and six to eight from the latter, as we now are. The Nevada Senators and Representative will consult the interests of their State as well as our Territory, by giving prompt and earnest aid towards awarding this contract to Mr. Beachey.

TOO MUCH BALDERDASH.—It was said of the learned Bishop Sanderson that, when he was preparing his lectures, he hesitated so much and rejected so often, that, at the time of reading, he was often forced to produce, not what was best, but what happened to be at hand. This will be the state of every man who, in the choice of his employment, balances all the arguments on every side; the complication is so intricate, the motives and objections so numerous, there is so much play for the imagination, and so much remains in the powers of others, that reason is forced at last to rest in neutrality, the decision devolves into the hands of chance, and after a great part of life spent in inquiries which can never be resolved, the rest must often pass to repent the unnecessary delay, and can be useful for few other purposes than to warn others against the same folly, and to show, that of two states of life equally consistent with religion and virtue, he who chooses earliest chooses best.—Johnson.

One-stamp mills are a noticeable institution in Owyhee. Nearly every house, cabin and hole in the ground, occupied by a human being, has its one-stamp mill in the shape of a hand mortar or quicksilver tank, and a horn spoon to pan out or amalgamate in. There is no such thing as actually seeing the amount of bullion extracted from Owyhee rock by this simple process, but it must be immense. We are informed that a washerwoman up near the Ore Fino mine, has erected a sort of mill with a creep overhead, not unlike an old-fashioned well apparatus, with which she stamps enough out of croppings and such rock as is lying around loose, to make twice the wages that her husband does who works by the day. That couple struck it when they married. It is not every woman though, who would run a one stamp mill so successfully—even in Owyhee.—Owyhee Avalanche.

SECRETARY SEWARD'S FACE.—Mr. Seward took off the inconvenient and complicated apparatus of his fractured jaw-bone, and now wears a simple India-rubber bandage on the outside of the face only. The gland in his cheek which was severed by Payne's knife, has not yet wholly recovered, and there is still much inflammation about the wound. A great scar on the right side of his face still shows the desperate nature of the cut received from that assassin. It looks as if the entire cheek had been amputated and fitted on again. The mouth is also much distorted, as a result of the wounds, the right corner of it being raised an inch above its proper line. No former acquaintance would recognize the venerable statesman, so much is his countenance changed by the dreadful injuries.

"CAME HOME AS GOOD AS WE WENT."—"When my brother and I went away to the war" said a young western soldier who had fought at Stone river and Chickamauga under Rosecrans, at Chattanooga under Grant, and had made the great march under Sherman, "our determined mother to come home as good as we went, and we'll do so, too, we have not learned to smoke or chew, or drink, or play at cards. I guess she'll be glad to see us back again safe and sound."

Washington, visiting a lady in his neighborhood, on leaving the house, a little girl was directed to open the door. He turned to the child and said, "I am sorry, my little dear to give you so much trouble." "I wish, sir," she replied, "it was to let you in."

"A steward wrote to a bookseller in London for some books to fit up his master's library, in the following terms: "In the first place I want six feet of theology, the same quantity of metaphysics and a yard of old civil law in folio."

"There were three hours and a half lost by you this morning," a superintendent said to a tardy teacher. "I was only half an hour late," he replied. "True," said the superintendent, "but there were seven scholars waiting for you."

Frugality is good if liberality be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last is bestowing them to the benefit of others that need. The first without the last begets covetousness; the last without the first begets prodigality.

When a young man marries, the demon utters a fearful cry. His fellow unmarried friend turns him and inquire the subject of his grief. "Another son of Adam," he answers, "has just escaped out of my clutches."
